

PENNSAUKEN
BARRINGTON

2019

CONFERENCE

Egypt to Canaan:

The Believers' Pilgrimage through an Inhospitable World

Redemption
And its Results

Out of Egypt

Topic # 1

The Response to Redemption

By Lloyd Cain, Truth and Tidings, December Issue 2004:

"We have been set free from the vain manner of life of Jewish legalism and tradition. We have been liberated from all the perversity and iniquity that characterized the Gentile world, and purified that we might be a people for a possession for Him alone (Titus 2:11-14). Paul told the Corinthians that they had been bought (purchased in the marketplace) with a great price and therefore were no longer their own. They could no longer live the former sinful, sensual life that was theirs before they encountered the Christ. They had to respond to the sanctifying, consecrating claims of the Cross and of the indwelling Holy Spirit (1 Corinthians 6:19-20). Are you freely serving the One who set you free?"

Isaiah 43:1

"O Israel, Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art Mine."

Biblical Redemption

The action of being rescued out of the slave market of sin

Historical Summary

After centuries in Egypt, the Lord raised up Moses to rescue Israel from slavery. They were redeemed, led through the Red Sea and into the promises and purposes of God. A journey of no more than two years would have brought them to the promised land. The following lessons are related to their experiences in the wilderness. One aspect of our Christian life is that we are like pilgrims in a foreign land.

Exodus 13-15

Crossing the Red Sea

Titus 2:13-14

"Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ; Who gave Himself for us, that He might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works."